

Lady Kalamity

Rules of behavior and safety

The basic rules and requirements to be met for the role practice are detailed below, for the purposes of stipulating the minimum rules so that the enjoyment is full and safe by both.

1. The submerged undertakes to obey the orders given by his Lady within the limits previously agreed upon. As well as the Lady agrees to respect and not perform any practice not consented to by the submissive.

In this sense, the submissive gives his consent for the Lady to order and submit to the practices that emulate a real experience, understanding that he wishes to be a participant in said game and that he accepts the role that he plays.

Any meeting in which there is a violation of this or other precepts may mean the end of the session, without prejudice to the criminal responsibility that the person who violates it may incur.

2. In no case will it be allowed during or immediately before the sessions, the consumption or use of narcotic or psychotropic substances that could impair the physical or mental capacities of any member as well as endangering their health or integrity

The consumption of alcoholic beverages will be issued to what the parties agree at the time of the session itself.

On the other hand, the submissive will inform the Lady as soon as possible if he is under the prescription of any medication or follows any type of medical treatment. If not yet given the circumstance, suffers some type of physical and mental pathology, as well as any other consideration that the Lady must take into account when exercising her role during the session.

3. Likewise, and in no case, unless indicated and expressly authorized, to the contrary by the Lady, the submissive will be authorized to touch or exercise any sexual practice or with sexual connotations to it, as well as to propose or coerce to agree to any request of similar characteristics.

Failure to comply with this precept will lead to the end of the session, without prejudice to the criminal responsibilities that may be incurred by whoever violates it.

In addition, the submissive is informed that the Lady takes and will take all the necessary security measures for this and other regulations to be effective, which may consist of the passive participation of third parties whose role will be to give faith and protection to the same.

4. The use of electronic devices used for the purpose of capturing images or video is strictly prohibited, except with the consent of the parties and their express authorization, as well as the transmission or any lucrative practice derived from it.

Considering such an infringement a violation of the right to privacy in a non-domestic environment and abiding by the provisions of current legislation on protection of personal data and other laws.

5. The rules or conditions that are not included in this compilation must also be agreed upon by the parties. Preferably keeping a written record, and taking said consensus and communication as a basis for understanding, safety and enjoyment of the practice.

The submissive, who declares to be in fullness of his psychic and cognitive faculties, declares that he has read and undertakes to comply with the will of his Lady, respecting therefore each and every one of the rules that appear here collected.

Agrees to the aforementioned standards by signing this sheet in legible hand writing.